FROM THE COMMISSIONER

WELCOME BACK TO WHERE LEGENDS LIVE.

MOF Family,

After nine seasons away, the official magazine of Madden Online Football is back.

A lot has changed. The game has evolved. New faces have emerged. Rivalries have been written, rewritten, and passed down. But one thing has never changed — the heart of this league.

This league was built on competition, respect, and brotherhood. It was built by the grind of 32 coaches chasing greatness every single week.

This magazine is our tribute to that grind. To the dynasties. To the upsets. To the stories that only happen in MOF.

We're back to celebrate our history, our present, and everything still to come.

THIS ISN'T JUST A COMEBACK.
IT'S A STATEMENT.

See you on the field,

MOF Commissioner

THE STANDARD

7× MOF SUPER BOWL CHAMPION
SEASONS 6 • 20 • 34 • 70 • 83 • 84 • 86

TWENTY-THREE YEARS. SEVEN RINGS. ONE STANDARD.

From AOL Instant Messenger and the early days of the MOF to Madden 27 and Season 87, CanesBucs1 has survived every generation the league has thrown at him — and somehow, he's getting better.

Three championships in the last four seasons have moved him within one title of the all-time record.

But ask Canes what defines his career, and he won't point to the rings.

He'll point to the competition.

And now, the defending champion begins another chase — this time with the New York Jets.

CHAMPIONSHIP BEHIND THE ALL-TIME RECORD

“MOST GAMES IN THIS LEAGUE ARE PLAYED WITHIN TIGHT MARGINS — AND THEY'RE LOST BY MISTAKES MORE TIMES THAN NOT.”

1. SEVEN SUPER BOWL CHAMPIONSHIPS ACROSS SEASONS 6, 20, 34, 70, 83, 84 AND 86. WHEN YOU LOOK AT ALL SEVEN RINGS, IS THERE ONE CHAMPIONSHIP THAT MEANS THE MOST TO YOU? WHY?

Looking back, I'd have to say it was that first one. The reason is back then we didn't have a Franchise. We would play a season, then after it was over we would redraft teams and play again. That edition I took the Vikings and to be honest, I was straight ass. I went 5-10-1 in the first season with them but I felt like I had figured something out with them. So when we redrafted, they were still on the board and I took them again. I turned it around and went 13-3 and won the SB. We were updating through AOL instant messaging back then. Was crazy times.

2. YOUR FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP CAME ALL THE WAY BACK IN SEASON 6 AND YOUR MOST RECENT CAME IN SEASON 86. WHAT HAS ALLOWED YOU TO REMAIN A CHAMPIONSHIP-LEVEL COACH THROUGH SO MANY DIFFERENT MADDEN GAMES AND ERAS OF THE MOF?

So the games have changed so much throughout the years, but I have always kept the K.I.S.S. approach. Just Keep It Simple Stupid. I am not the best at anything. Some guys are great passers, some are great runners, great user DTs, LBs, or S. Some guys are great GMs and scheme guys. I'm not really great at any one thing, I'm pretty good at most, definitely a better GM than user though. I don't take a lot of chances or do a lot of crazy stuff. I take what is given, punt most of the time, and don't hold on to players because I have an attachment to them. I figured out most of the games in this league are played within tight margins and they are lost by mistakes more times than not.

3. YOU'VE WON THREE OF THE LAST FOUR MOF SUPER BOWLS. AT THIS STAGE OF YOUR CAREER, DO YOU THINK YOU'RE PLAYING THE BEST MADDEN YOU'VE EVER PLAYED? WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT CANES TODAY COMPARED WITH THE COACH WHO WON THAT FIRST TITLE?

I definitely feel like I'm playing at a much higher level than I ever have before. The weird part is I use to play a lot of online H2H and now I never do. I only really play the game for MOF. The only other time I turn on Madden is to look through rosters and think up trades or scout. The reason I'm playing better though is because of the competition in this league. All the Vets always give me hard games and most can go either way. I also will pick the minds of some Vets once in a while and vice versa.

The losses. The rivals. The preparation.
And the chase for No. 8.

4. THE BEST OF THE BEST

Every championship team has its own personality. Of your seven title teams, which one do you believe was your best overall team? And which championship required your best coaching job?

“It might sound like the easy answer but I feel like this last team was the best one. That Eagles team was just so complete. It had everything. There were no weaknesses on that team at all.

As far as my best coaching job I'd have to say it was the Steelers team that I won with. In that Superbowl I had to beat Betts and I needed to score a TD in the last minute.

5. PREPARATION IS EVERYTHING

What does your preparation look like during an MOF season? How much time do you spend studying opponents, your roster, schemes and tendencies?

“My top preparation is roster construction. I will run some test franchises just to get a feel for what kind of contracts some guys might be looking for. I also am looking at other rosters to see what players they have that can fit what I want to do but maybe not what they are doing. The more I try to dissect someone else and put something together to beat them, the worse I do. I just try to do what I do best. Once in a while I might save a play against a specific opponent for a situation though.

6. THE RIVALS. THE VETS. THE CHALLENGE.

You've competed against generations of MOF coaches. Who are some of the toughest opponents or biggest rivals you've faced over the years, and what made playing them different?

“So obviously Mack is probably always going to be the toughest. I do think I did pretty good against him that last edition we were in the same division but that still means losing 3/4 of the time.

Currently guys that have had my number are Reub and Beast. Most of the games are good, but they just make 1 or 2 more plays at the end of the day.

Off the top of my head, a lot of vets like QP, Commish, JFon, Mackdaddy, Boobie, Dre, Roc, Bill, Krayzie all give me tough games. Doesn't matter the H2H records as the games are tight. Most the other guys are tough too. Snoop was no walk in the park last edition when he came in with Washington.

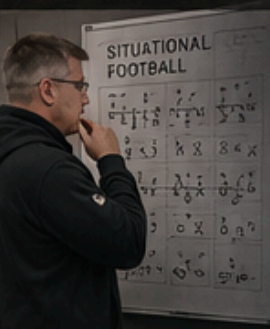

7. THE LOSS THAT STILL BURNS

Is there one playoff or Super Bowl loss that still bothers you? Did that loss change anything about the way you approach the game?

“There is one SB loss that 100% burns me. Season 61 when I was Arizona I lost to Pettigrew and the Patriots. I built that Arizona team really good.

That game I was up 21-0 at halftime and thought I could cruise to the win. Well he turned it around and caught one or two lucky catches along the way and wound up coming back to beat me.

Once he got the momentum I couldn't get it back. It reminded me that you can't take your foot off the gas. You can stay within the rules while also staying aggressive. Sometimes you need those little reminders.

“WHEN THEY SEE ME ON THE SCHEDULE, THEY'RE GOING TO BE IN FOR A GOOD GAME. NO TRICKS OR CRAZY ADJUSTMENTS. JUST AN OLD-SCHOOL

8. NEW YORK STATE OF MIND

You're taking over the New York Jets in Season 87. What attracted you to this roster, and what kind of identity do you want this Jets team to have?

“So full disclosure, I was going to take the Raiders this edition. I wanted a young team to play with. I thought it would be easy to get them.

Then I saw I fell to 15 and didn't know what to do.

I really should have taken Denver, but chose the Jets because of their young guys they drafted and the fact they have multiple first rounders this next draft.

I'm a trenches guy, so I have work to do with them but I will try to build the trenches up, and put a physical team on the field.

9. WHY HE STILL PLAYS

When you've already won seven championships, what still motivates you?

“Just competing in the league motivates me. This league has been around for over 20 years. The guys are great. It's a great place for us from all over to come and cut up on each other and then compete.

It's a great break away from all the bullshit day to day stuff we all deal with at work or with spouses.

There are a lot of guys in here that do stuff to make the league great with different columns and content. The Commish won't let the league drop off and that sets the tone for everyone else.

10. THE LEGACY

Twenty-three years from the beginning of the MOF, Season 4, you've become one of the defining coaches in its history. What do you hope people remember most?

“Honestly the only thing I want them to remember is that when they see me on the schedule, they were going to be in for a good game.

DARK HORSES

THESE GUYS COULD SURPRISE EVERYONE.

CHEEFERD EAGLES

Put together several strong seasons last edition and now inherits one of Madden '27's best rosters. A Super Bowl appearance would surprise absolutely no one.

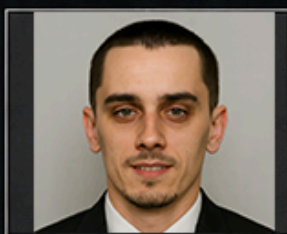

LYNX CHARGERS

His rookie campaign had its ups and downs, but Lynx has been putting in the work. With a dangerous Chargers roster and plenty of reps under his belt, Year 2 could look very different.

SHAWTYPIZZLE GIANTS

Coming off a strong Madden '26 run and a CFB '27 World Cup championship, Shawty enters Season 87 with momentum. Sleep on him at your own risk.

BOOBIE_MTZ7 PACKERS

He's become a regular in the postseason conversation. The question isn't whether Boobie can get there anymore — it's whether he can finally break through into the MOF's elite tier.

BIGDRE245 JAGUARS

Calling the defending runner-up a dark horse sounds ridiculous, yet BigDre still rarely gets mentioned among the league's elite. Another deep run could finally end that conversation.

PROVE US WRONG

SIX COACHES ENTER SEASON 87 WITH SOMETHING TO PROVE.

COMMISH JEFF LIONS

Consistently gets to the playoffs. Consistently struggles to survive the opening round. Season 87 is another opportunity to change the narrative.

BIGREG FALCONS

Once one of the league's most reliable winners, BigReg has posted winning records in just 3 of his last 12 seasons. Can Atlanta spark a resurgence?

COACH QKP35 RAVENS

The talent is there. Baltimore gives QKP one of the better rosters in the game, but high expectations haven't always translated into results.

DOMI_TSX BEARS

We know the ceiling — Super Bowl 85 Champion. When Domi is locked in, he's dominant. When he isn't, the results can look completely different. Consistency is everything.

MRROCLO COLTS

Much like Domi, focus has never been the question at his best. Maintaining it over an entire season has. Indianapolis gives him another opportunity.

MMXCALIBUR RAMS

The roster can compete, but the division won't offer many favors and Los Angeles enters Season 87 facing a difficult salary-cap situation.

SEASON 87 TEAM DRAFT

DRAFT NIGHT

32 PICKS. TWO TRADES. TOTAL CHAOS.

The Season 87 Team Draft delivered everything MOF fans love—loyalty picks, ridiculous steals, shocking trades and a few headscratchers that had the chat buzzing all night long.

DRAFT NIGHT WINNERS

MMXCALIBUR — RAMS AT #14

Perhaps the steal of the entire draft. One of Madden 27's highest-rated rosters somehow survived until the 14th selection.

COMMISH JEFF — LIONS VIA TRADE

Jeff selected Seattle at No. 11 and somehow still walked away with the franchise he was hunting all along. After his success with Detroit last edition, the league wanted the Lions kept as far away from him as possible. KnightNoles apparently didn't get the memo.

LATINYANK77478 — 49ERS AT #25

San Francisco at twenty-five? That's absurd value for a roster with that much talent.

CHEEFERD — EAGLES AT #2

No games. No overthinking it. Cheefer grabbed one of Madden's premier rosters immediately and enters Season 87 with championship-level expectations.

★ ★ ★ BIGGEST SURPRISE ★ ★ ★

SUPER BOWL PREDICTIONS

FOUR MOF ANALYSTS. FOUR PATHS TO SUPER BOWL 87. ONE CHAMPION.

COMMISH JEFF

AFC PICK:
TENNESSEE TITANS

BigReub returns after an edition away, and a proven multi-time champion immediately becomes dangerous.

NFC PICK:
SEATTLE SEAHAWKS

KnightNoles is one of the league's top coaches and has the roster to make a serious run.

SUPER BOWL 87 CHAMPION:
SEATTLE SEAHAWKS

PREDICTED FINAL SCORE

27 | 20

MVP:
HB JADARIAN PRICE

COACH QKP35

AFC PICK:
KANSAS CITY CHIEFS

Bubba with his favorite franchise is always dangerous, and an AFC undergoing plenty of coaching turnover gives Kansas City an opening.

NFC PICK:
SEATTLE SEAHAWKS

Knight combines an elite roster with proven coaching and should survive a loaded NFC by the narrowest of margins.

SUPER BOWL 87 CHAMPION:
SEATTLE SEAHAWKS

PREDICTED FINAL SCORE

38 | 31

MVP:
WR JAXON SMITH-NJIGBA

TSG_LEE34

AFC PICK:
BALTIMORE RAVENS

Q's passing attack with Lamar Jackson and Derrick Henry is a nightmare. Add his defensive scheming ability, and Baltimore has everything it needs.

NFC PICK:
SEATTLE SEAHAWKS

Knight doesn't need superstars everywhere. His scheme, composure and player development make Seattle built for a deep run.

SUPER BOWL 87 CHAMPION:
BALTIMORE RAVENS

PREDICTED FINAL SCORE

38 | 35

MVP:
QB LAMAR JACKSON

KRAYZIE300

AFC PICK:
NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS

Minden + Maye = records shattered. Especially with half his opponents still waking up when they play him.

NFC PICK:
SEATTLE SEAHAWKS

"Sir Noles of House 12th Man" remains one of the MOF's most consistent coaches from edition to edition.

SUPER BOWL 87 CHAMPION:
SEATTLE SEAHAWKS

PREDICTED FINAL SCORE

38 | 31

MVP:
TE ELIJAH ARROYO

DARK HORSE WATCH

THE SLEEPERS WHO COULD

PHILADELPHIA
EAGLES

Cheeferd inherits a talented roster capable of crashing the NFC picture and making a serious run.

COACH QKP35

CHICAGO BEARS /
DENVER BRONCOS

Domi and MackDaddy both have the coaching ability and rosters to make unexpected postseason runs.

TSG_LEE34

LOS ANGELES
CHARGERS

Lynx has a talented team. If he stays disciplined and doesn't beat himself, Los Angeles could become a legitimate AFC contender.

KRAYZIE300

CLEVELAND BROWNS

Snooppantner and Cleveland get Krayzie's sleeper vote in an AFC where plenty remains unsettled.

COMMISH JEFF

PATRIOTS

2 VOTES

New England enters the season with plenty left to prove.

EAGLES

"This one is personal." Q admits his Eagles skepticism might have slightly more to do with hatred of the franchise than football analysis.

TSG_LEE34

PATRIOTS

2 VOTES

The offense has weapons, but Lee believes New England's defensive holes could prevent Minden from making the expected leap.

KRAYZIE300

LIONS

Detroit's brutal division concerns Krayzie, especially against Boobie. He also thinks Gibbs may have been slightly nerfed in Madden 27.

THE NEXT GENERATION

ROOKIE SPOTLIGHTS

Six players who could make an immediate impact in Season 87.

FERNANDO MENDOZA

QB | RAIDERS

THE FACE OF THE CLASS

The keys are his. The ratings aren't overwhelming, but opportunity changes everything. Mendoza has the arm talent, accuracy and mobility to immediately become one of Season 87's most fascinating rookies. He'll be asked to lead right away in Vegas.

91

THROW POWER

88

SHORT ACCURACY

85

HB | CARDINALS

94

94

94

CARRY

Exceptional speed and acceleration jump off the page. At 6'0", 212 pounds, Love has the size to handle a heavy workload and the explosiveness to break the game open at any moment. He should be the workhorse in Arizona.

CALEB DOWNS

SS | COWBOYS

89

93

ACCEL

87

HIT POWER

A missile in the secondary. Downs combines elite speed and acceleration with a fearless approach to contact. His 87 hit power will create turnovers and change games early in his NFL career.

A 90-speed, 92-acceleration linebacker is the type of defender coordinators lose sleep over. Reese can cover, pursue and deliver hits all over the field from day one. By the end of Year 1, he could be a defensive centerpiece in New York.

ROOKIE STOCK WATCH

THE FUTURE IS LOUD.
THE FUTURE IS FAST.

Every season, a new wave of rookies arrives with potential. A few arrive with purpose. These are the names to know entering Season 87.

THE MOF VERDICT

This class isn't loaded with established superstars — yet. But speed is everywhere. From Mendoza getting the keys in Vegas to Love's explosiveness in Arizona and a terrifying group of young defenders, Season 87 could introduce the next generation of MOF franchise cornerstones.

COMMISH'S ROOKIE BOARD

BEST IMMEDIATE IMPACT

FERNANDO MENDOZA

QB | RAIDERS

Opportunity meets arm talent. Mendoza is in position to start right away and make an instant impact in Vegas.

BEST LONG-TERM PROSPECT

JADARIAN PRICE

HB | SEAHAWKS

Elite speed, agility and toughness. Price has the ceiling to be a franchise back for years to come.

BEST MADDEN WEAPON

HB | CARDINALS

Rare combination of speed and size. Love can break a game open on any play, any time.

BEST SITUATION

DAVID BAILEY

EDGE | JETS

Joins a defense built to win now. Bailey will get chances, and his athleticism will do the rest.

MOST LIKELY TO WIN ROY

HB | CARDINALS

The talent, the role and the opportunity. Love is the frontrunner to take home Rookie of the Year honors.

SLEEPER OF THE CLASS

KELDRIK FAULK

EDGE | TITANS

First-round upside with a chip on his shoulder. Don't be surprised if Faulk emerges as a star.

23 YEARS OF MOF HISTORY— NOW AT YOUR FINGERTIPS

The MOF has always had the history. Now it finally has the database to match it.

More than two decades of games, championships, awards and rivalries are being brought together into one interconnected history system. Coach profiles now go far beyond wins and losses, combining career records, franchise experience, accolades, head-to-head results, yearly awards and record-book performances.

The massive undertaking has also given the MOF Hall of Fame an entirely new home. Hall of Famers now have full career profiles featuring exact historical statistics, awards, records, franchise history, Commissioner's Notes and induction speeches.

And for the stat nerds? The new MOF Records Database turns years of archived statistics into searchable leaderboards spanning single-game and single-season performances.

WHO REALLY OWNS WHO?

Career rivalries no longer have to rely on memory. The H2H Database has the receipts.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTE

Coach Q has been an absolute staple of the MOF since Season 12. Although he didn't have consistent success until about Season 22. Since Season 22 he's only had 1 losing season, and countless playoff berths. Although he's only made 1 Super Bowl we know it's in the cards for him soon. Lifelong Dallas Cowboy fan and an insatiable part of the MOF and the MOF staff, Coach Q's Hall of Fame induction has been a long time coming. Welcome to the hall.
